I consider, mostly everyone thought about main qualities that must have a perfect teacher.

Firstly, teacher should love children because working at school is very close connected with them. To my mind, you will not can give knowledges to children if you do not know how to act and speak with them.

Secondly, it is important to have a high level of education. In ~~my~~ opinion, every teacher should be enough experienced and advanced. It is more interesting to listen to teachers who tells us stories from their lives and give examples based on real life.

Thirdly, but less important thing, that than things, that I have already written above, is to be kind and understanding. Sometimes pupils have difficult situations at school, home or wherever they could have them. Perhaps, many students would like to find a friend in their teachers with whom they could share their stories or just laugh at jokes.

As for me, I am lucky to have such a perfect teacher. She always helps us to overcome difficulties. ~~and~~ By the way, I also have visited Ireland and study English with her. I am happy to learn at her class and I, of course, love her.
