Too many toys?

Nowadays, there are a lot of toy shops. There are also many parents, who like buying a ^{1ex} large number of toys for their children. Some people think that too many toys might cause some problems with children in the future, while others believe that a large number of toys is not a problem.

First of all, toys are usually made for improving the children's knowledge. They try to make children think in ^{1ex} different ways. Besides ^{1ex} it, toys like teddy bears teach kids to love. This is why, kids who have lots of toys can be really kind, but ^{1ex} this is only a one side of this problem. ^{2 → 15/15.}

From another point of view, toys are ^{1ex} not able to change real life problems, so children with a little number of toys have a better life experience. More than that, toys take a lot of free time, but they don't have an ability to give skills of communication. ¹⁵²

In my opinion, parents who buy a huge number of toys for their children should reduce this number. ~~because they have to teach children themselves, not using toys.~~ My classmate, who also had a lot of toys in his childhood, is now jealous and unfriendly. ^{197.}
