Museums: to charge or not to charge?

Nowadays people are able to get information in different ways. ¹⁰ The Internet ²⁰ is one of the most popular resource for doing it. Museums ³⁰ is are not very common form of getting knowledge with teenagers but still a very appealing one. Usually the cost of one ticket for an adult ⁴⁰ is 250 rubles, not too much, ⁵⁰ so should the museums be charged or ⁶⁰ be completely free.

~~I reckon~~ that not charged museums are ⁷⁰ would be visited by more people than ⁸⁰ museums that ⁸⁰ require an entrance fee. ⁹⁰ The fact that you do not have to pay any charges seems ¹⁰⁰ to many people very attractive. ¹¹⁰ so they may spend a night out in the museum while others would stay at home. ¹²⁰ The greatest advantage is that even teenagers, who are usually not interested in such ¹³⁰ sort of things, may go to the museum. ¹⁴⁰ ~~The~~ ¹⁵⁰ The problem is that they may come on their own purposes like having a photoshoot inside the building ¹⁶⁰ so they would disturb other people who came ¹⁷⁰ there there to get new information. Such things ¹⁸⁰ once happened to me. It was a rainy day in Vladivostok, where I went on vacation, so I decided not to waste my time and go to the museum. From the moment I was inside I knew something would happen. I was on the third floor listening to a guide attentively when a group of students came out of nowhere. They were pretty loud so I couldn't really understand what the guide was saying. On the other side it is kind of risky to not to charge visitors for admissions because the owner would need to find money so that to pay bills and people who work there.

To sum it up I would say that it is better not to charge for admission because the advantages of charging do not ever outweigh the disadvantages.

Anyway it depends on person characteristics. But anyway they left and I could listen to the end of an excursion. The only problem with non-charging museums is that log To add to this people would know more after visiting a museum.

To sum it up I would say that it is better not to charge for admission because there are more advantages in it than gr disadvantages.
